

AUDITION SCRIPT

Several million Americans have atrial fibrillation—or AFIB—and some estimate up to 12 million will have it by 2030!

Today we have with us nationally-renown electrophysiologist, and leading authority on AFIB, Doctor Eric Prystowsky, who will, in this short Heart Health series, explain to us just what AFIB is, what is actually on in the heart and the different treatments that are available to manage it. Doctor Prystowsky, thank you for being here.
